

Mathletics

Yet another gold this week! Super work from our mathletics masters. Working consistently across the year really pays off. Brilliant work all of you!

GOLD: Rupert

SILVER : OLIVER CJ, RUPERT, LILLIE

BRONZE : Oscar, Oliver CJ, Olivia, Florence, Felicity, Rupert, Ben, Ethan, Josiah, Alexis, Maddox, Rufus, Oliver H, Lillie, Lauren, Tomas, Ted L, Vinnie, Violet, Eleanor, Joseph, George R, Kaan, Arthur S, Martha S, Amelie, Isabella, Henry V, Eugene

ROBIN class had a blast on Tuesday morning with Supertato! They took part in the virtual Reading is Magic festival with Sue Hendra and Paul Linnet, authors of the Supertato and No-Bot stories. They joined in with the Supertato songs, listened to the authors read their new book No-Bot's the Robot's New Bottom (which they laughed at a lot!) and they decorated potatoes as their own Supertatoes!

Reading is Magical Festival By Emily Kestrel Class

The reading is magic festival is all about authors and illustrators inspired by their books. Their creative tips helped us a lot to write our stories from our imagination, what is even better our teachers can't mark it. Martha and I wrote a story about friendship and that looks don't matter. 2 different lands and lots of magical creatures. Nightingales thought it was entertaining and inspiring. Some people are re-illustrating their favourite books and the others are writing about something that was around a while ago

It is so lovely to see lots of phonic learning happening at home. Here is a wonderful example from a Kingfisher Puffin. Well done Emily, before school too! Keep it up, you are doing really well, what a star. Love Mrs G X X X

The circus is coming to town. Well done Oscar. Another busy Kingfisher bringing their learning to life at home. We have a see saw, a tight rope, a man on wheels, motor bike stuntmen, magicians, an animal enclosure, the world's tallest man and of course the Big top. Oscar worked with his mummy after being shown a picture. Great collaboration. There was even music, 'The greatest show' such fantastic work.
