Dear Parent/Carer

What a week! Thank you for your patience Monday and Tuesday. Staff were out trying to get into school but were defeated by the water!

A huge thank you to staff for pulling together all the home learning for the second day of floods and thank you to pupils who participated in it! It has been lovely to get back to school though and see all the children again.

Thank you to FOCs, staff and pupils who did an amazing job with the Christmas Fair last Saturday; there were so many stalls and so many visitors, despite the terrible weather. It was a lovely atmosphere and a brilliant way to start the festive period.

And because you can't have too much of a good thing...why have just one Christmas fair, when you can have two...? Don't forget that on Friday 6th after school, Monkton Farleigh base will be having our second Christmas fair, so hopefully many of you will be able to attend that too.

On Monday we have our Christmas Craft Open Day, so if you know anyone who is looking to start school next year or the following year, do encourage them to come along and have a look around. I do hope that you have all seen the recent Facebook post for this – thank you Miss Ottner; very talented directing and editing!

There are a lot of Christmas events coming up this term so do keep checking the website and Facebook for reminders.

Have a lovely weekend

Best wishes,

Heather

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about SNAPCHAT

SNAP STREAK
97 DAYS

AGE RESTRICTION
13+

Snapchat is a messaging app which allows users to send images, videos and texts to others. Its best-known feature is that anything sent 'disappears' 24 hours after it's been viewed; however, users are known to take screenshots or use another device to obtain a photo of their screen. In 2023, Snapchat added a chatbot function called 'My AI'.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

- ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE
My AI is Snapchat's new chatbot, which replies to questions in a human-like manner. However, the software is still in its infancy and has significant drawbacks, such as biased, incorrect or misleading responses. There have already been numerous reports of young users turning to AI for medical help and diagnoses, which could be inaccurate and therefore potentially dangerous.
- SCREEN TIME ADDICTION
Snapchat prioritises user engagement, with features like streaks (messaging the same person every day to build up a high score). The app also has sections called 'Discover' and 'Spotlight', which show tailored content to each user. However, this could also be seen as an attempt to hook users into watching videos endlessly. Furthermore, constant notifications can lure people into using the app.
- PREDATORS AND SCAMS
Predators can exploit Snapchat's disappearing messages by, for example, telling a user they have naked photos of them and will post them unless they're paid. Snapchat's own research found that 65% of teenagers had experienced this – on this app or others. This likely isn't helped by 'SnapMaps' – a feature which highlights your exact position in real-time. This is meant to help friends keep track of each other, but could be used for more sinister reasons.
- INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT
Some content on Snapchat simply isn't suitable for children. The hashtags used to group content are determined by the poster, so even an innocent search term could still yield age-inappropriate results. The app's 'disappearing messages' feature also makes it easy for young people to share explicit images on impulse – so sexting continues to be a risk associated with Snapchat.
- MY EYES ONLY
Snapchat has a hidden photo vault called 'My Eyes Only'. Teens can conceal sensitive photos and videos from parents and carers in this folder, which is protected by a PIN. You can check for this by clicking on the icon which looks like two playing cards. This takes you to the 'Memories' folder which stores photos, stories and the My Eyes Only folder.
- ONLINE PRESSURES
Although many of Snapchat's filters are designed to entertain or amuse, the 'beauty' effects on photos can set unrealistic body image expectations – creating feelings of inadequacy in younger users. Snapchat now also has 'priority' notifications (which still get displayed even if a device is in 'do not disturb' mode), increasing the pressure on users to log back in and interact.

Advice for Parents & Educators

- UTILISE PARENTAL CONTROLS
Snapchat's 'Family Centre' lets you view the details of the child's account, their friends list and who they've spoken to in the last week – and report any concerns. You must invite a child to the Family Centre for them to join. To keep the child's location hidden on the app, go into settings and turn on 'Ghost Mode' and 'Hide Live Location', and ensure they know not to share their location with anyone.
- FAMILIARISE YOURSELF
Before you allow a child to download Snapchat, download it yourself and familiarise yourself with the app. Snapchat has produced a parents' guide to the app to help you understand how it works and any protections they have in place. A link for this can be found in the sources below.
- BLOCK AND REPORT
If a stranger does connect with a child on Snapchat and begins to make them feel uncomfortable through bullying, pressure to send explicit images or by sending sexual images to them, the child can tap the three dots on that person's profile and report or block them. There are options to state why they're reporting that user – such as annoying or malicious messages, spam or misquoting or someone else.
- ENCOURAGE OPEN DISCUSSIONS
Snapchat's risks can be easier to handle if you nurture an open dialogue. For example, discuss My AI's responses to questions and how reliable they are. Talk about scams and blackmail before letting children sign up. If they're lured into a scam, encourage them to tell you immediately. Talk openly and non-judgementally about sexting, emphasising its inherent risks. Furthermore, explain how popular 'challenges' on the platform can have harmful consequences.
